

Conference themes include

- workplace learning, learning environments and learning organisations
- new models of apprenticeship: connecting learning and knowledge in different settings,
- the contexts of learning: the work organization, a profession, the life course
- gendered work identities and learning
- subjectivity, identity and culture
- learning for all in a globalizing world of work
- policies and institutions of work related learning
- Vocational Education and Training, Continuing professional education
- crafts, vocations and professions

Pre- or post-conferences will be organized to host more specific or practice oriented discussions.

Denmark, Copenhagen and Roskilde

The climate in Denmark is friendly in June, and just outside peak tourist season.

The conference will be organized in Roskilde University campus, located 25 km from downtown Copenhagen, near the town of Roskilde, a cosy provincial town at the outskirts of metropolitan Copenhagen.

Copenhagen international Airport, which has local train connection, has direct flight connections to all parts of Europe, N. America and Asia, including lots of cheap connections with major European airports.

Participation fees

Standard fee 350 € . Reduction for early registration.
Reduction for students.

Refreshments, lunches and welcome reception included.
Conference dinner optional

Accommodation not included

For more information:

Website: www.RWL6.ruc.dk

E-mail: RWL6@ruc.dk

The Graduate School of Lifelong Learning

invites you to join

The 6th International conference on

Researching Work and Learning

- RWL6

28. June - 1. July 2009

at Roskilde University (RUC)
Denmark

www.RWL6.ruc.dk

RWL6@ruc.dk

Scientific Committee

The scientific committee will be responsible for basic themes and major issues related to programme and organisation, and for the assessment of abstracts.

- Prof. Henning Salling Olesen, RUC (chair)
- Prof. Per-Erik Ellström, Linköping
- Prof. Keith Forrester, Leeds
- Prof. Phil Hodgkinson, Leeds
- Prof. Miriam Zukas, Leeds
- Prof. Erik Laursen, Aalborg University
- Assoc. prof. John Houman Sørensen, Aalborg University
- Prof. Bente Elkjaer, School of Education, Aarhus University
- Prof. Kurt Aagaard Nielsen, Dept. of Environment and Sustainability, RUC
- Senior researcher Bruno Clematide, Kubix Consultants, Copenhagen

Members from the organizing department:

- Anders Siig Andersen,
- Betina Dybbroe
- Chr. Helms Jørgensen
- Morten Smistrup
- Finn Sommer
- Niels Warring
- Kirsten Weber

Nyhavn, Copenhagen

Photo/Copyright:
Wonderful Copenhagen

Middelgrunden Wind Park, Copenhagen

Christiania, Copenhagen

Photo/Copyright: www.christiania.org

Roskilde Viking Ship Museum, Roskilde Harbour

Photo/Copyright: Roskilde Viking Ship Museum

Roskilde University

Photo/Copyright: Roskilde University

The hosting organizations

Roskilde University is widely known for its interdisciplinary approaches and radical project based study format.

The Graduate School of Lifelong Learning is a doctoral programme with approx. 50 PhD students. A major part of research in the Department as well as the Graduate School is dealing with work life and learning in work life.

The Graduate School has particular collaborations in the work life learning realm with Leeds University, Institute for Lifelong Learning, and Linköping University, Sweden, the HELIX research programme.

The conference will draw on this whole hinterland, and also other institutions and research groups.

Conference format

The format of the conference will include a number of key note talks and the presentation of papers from participants in parallel sessions. Symposia and panel discussions will enable more comprehensive and interactive presentations and discussions.

Pre- or post-conferences will be organized to host more specific or practice oriented discussions.

Further information will be included in the first call for papers which will appear in the early 2008.